

NEW PRODUCT

The Banarly Ltd Group is proud to be the first to introduce to you a new product from Nigeria: the Parapenaeopsis sculptilis. This shrimp is wild-caught in the central Eastern Atlantic area (FAO 34) with bottom trawls.

Like all our other wild-caught shrimps, we offer these shrimps head-on and shell-on in master cartons of 18KG with 9 inner cartons of each 2KG (100% netto weight).

We grade this variety as the following:

30/40-40/60-60/80-80/100-100/120-120/140

CUSTOMERS FEEDBACK

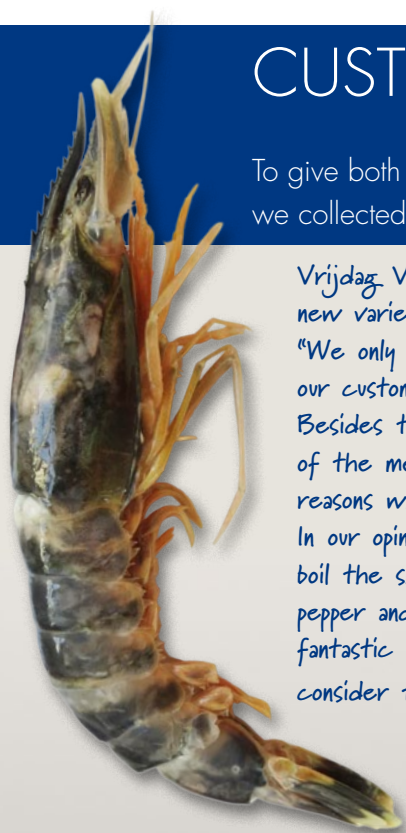

To give both our customers and consumers a better image of this new shrimp, we collected feedback from an outstanding seafood restaurant in Antwerp:

Vrijdag Visdag and Plateau Royal were the first restaurants in Belgium to try out this new variety of Parapenaeopsis shrimp and they immediately added it to their main menu. "We only work with wild-caught shrimps as we dislike the thought of selling products to our customers full of antibiotics and PCBs.

Besides that, the natural and refined taste (comparable to Sea tiger), the firm texture of the meat, the nice colour when cooked and the hard, crunchy shell are one of the reasons why we love to work with this shrimp.

In our opinion, it is a great alternative for the Pandalus shrimp from Norway. We not only boil the shrimp to use it for our seafood platters, we also sauté it with garlic and red pepper and then finally flambé it with whiskey or white wine. Our seafood restaurant has a fantastic reputation, because we only work with the best seafood products and we consider this new shrimp to be one of them."

- Vrijdag Visdag - Plateau Royal, February 2015, Antwerp (Belgium)
